Press Release: Bowditch & Dewey Welcomes Litigation Partner Jon Barooshian

APRIL 26, 2016

Bowditch & Dewey announced today that Jon Barooshian has joined the firm as a partner in the business litigation practice.

Barooshian concentrates his practice on government investigations and tax controversies in both the criminal and civil arena. He represents individuals and corporations in civil, criminal and administrative proceedings brought by federal and state agencies. In addition to tax fraud investigations, Barooshian defends clients in FBAR and offshore bank account proceedings, federal tax collection proceedings and voluntary disclosure matters. His clients include global financial services companies, healthcare companies, nonprofit higher education institutions, business owners and individuals.

“Jon is a welcome addition to Bowditch & Dewey, and we are delighted he is joining our firm,” said Managing Partner James D. Hanrahan. “He is a skilled litigator who brings sophisticated expertise in a host of areas important to our clients. Jon will add significant depth to our firm’s already premier litigation practice.”

“I am excited to join Bowditch’s team of quality attorneys,” said Barooshian, who will work in the firm’s Boston and Framingham offices. “I believe the Business Litigation Practice is among the strongest in Massachusetts.”

Barooshian served as an Assistant District Attorney in Massachusetts, and was formerly at Jager Smith, P.C. He received his LL.M. from Boston University School of Law’s Graduate Tax Program, and is a graduate of Massachusetts School of Law. He received his undergraduate degree from University of Massachusetts at Amherst. He is admitted to practice law both in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.
