

INSIGHTS + NEWS

Lawline features Jon Barooshian and Matthew Morris in “Legal Implications of the Panama Papers”

SEPTEMBER 14, 2016

Jon Barooshian and Matthew Morris will host a Lawline live webcast course on September 23 focusing on the implications of schemes such as those revealed in the Panama Papers leak from early 2016. The course will feature an overview of tax evasion and money laundering schemes and the associated penalties, information on reporting obligations when conducting international business and a discussion of pending legislation in response to the Panama Papers leak.

Read more and register for “Legal Implications of the Panama Papers” on the Lawline website.