Matthew Ray to Present “The Fundamentals of Negotiating Subordination, Recognition and Non-Disturbance Agreements”

Matthew Ray will discuss negotiating Subordination, Recognition and Non-Disturbance Agreements (“SNDAs”) at the Real Estate Bar Association’s (REBA’s) April 15 event. Hosted by REBA’s Commercial Real Estate Finance Section, the webinar will examine SNDAs from the perspectives of the key parties involved: the lender, the tenant and the property owner. While commercial practitioners may fall into the habit of treating SNDAs as ancillary agreements, Matt will highlight the important provisions these agreements contain and how they impact the rights of the various parties involved. Attendees will get a review of key terms and insight into the negotiation of these provisions.
